

Automated Solutions

We provide two forms of Automated Proctoring: Automated and Automated + Audit. Both options provide auto ID authentication, proctoring, and reporting to help you administer exams safely and securely. As a client of Examity, you have the option to select both of these modalities or just one. The choice is yours.

It is important to note that AI and auto ID proctoring are not synonymous. At Examity, we use AI to complement our software and build a robust service and support model to provide effective auto ID proctoring.

Automated

Automated begins before the test does - with comprehensive auto ID authentication. This process can be fully configurable by the test administrator, so they have total control.

Once authentication is complete, the test-taker begins the exam. Our auto ID proctoring technology takes over, monitoring the test from start to finish. At the end of each proctoring session, a full video of the exam, along with time-stamped comments, will be posted to the Examity dashboard for review by the test administrator.

Automated + Audit

Many partners prefer to include a formal human audit of the proctoring session, saving the test administrator from hours of time reviewing videos.

Automated + Audit maintains the same customizable authentication stages and auto ID proctoring as our Automated solution. However, once the proctoring session is complete, Examity will conduct a human audit that will review the authentication and exam session, along with any flags raised by our software. Following this review, the exam video, along with time-stamped comments, will be released to the Examity dashboard.
